INTRODUCTION.

THE following book contains the results of a religious census of London, taken in two parts at the instance of the proprietors of THE BRITISH WEEKLY. The first part contains the results of an enumeration of the worshippers at the two principal services in the churches and chapels of London. While similar enumerations have been made for all the greater cities of the empire, the enormous labour and cost involved in satisfactorily dealing with the problem in London had hitherto proved an insuperable barrier. Some fifteen hundred places, contained within a very wide area, had to be dealt with, and the number of persons employed amounted to several thousands. Thanks to the labours of the general superintendent, Major Colquhoun, of Lyons, who had previously superintended a similar, but much smaller, work in Glasgow; the superintendents of districts, many of them well known in the Christian world; the sub-superintendents, and enumerators; who in the vast majority of cases did their work with the utmost efficiency, the labour has now been accomplished. The day—the 24th of October, 1886—was bright, though cold, and there is every reason to believe that there was fully an average attendance. Of course in many cases allowance had to be made for various facts. The census does not take account of extra services, and exceptional circumstances in the case of separate churches increased or diminished the attendance for the day. For example, in the Church of England many harvest festivals were held, and in the case of several Nonconformist churches anniversary services were conducted. Sometimes, in various cases of course, the regular ministers were absent. I had hoped to indicate these circumstances more precisely than has been found possible ; but I believe implicit reliance may be placed on the accuracy of the figures. They were published by instalments. The enumeration was made by actual counting, official estimates being in no case accepted when unconfirmed, and challenge of specific figures was invited. On due cause shown the matter was investigated, and in a few cases, very small in proportion to the whole number, corrections were made. I have to acknowledge with gratitude the generosity with which the enterprise was commented on by the religious press generally, and I print a few representative letters received from eminent public men. I do not think it advisable to reproduce the articles in which I drew what appeared to me fair inferences from the figures, as the object of this publication is to place the facts before readers and allow them to draw their own conclusions. I may, however, say that the object of the census was in no way sectarian or political, and that many prominent members of all churches took part in it.

FROM THE RIGHT HON. W. E. GLADSTONE, M.P.

As one of the public, Mr Gladstone feels much indebted to the Editor, especially in the present very defective state of our information, for the religious census of London.

A numerical comparison with the results obtained in the other great towns would be interesting.

So, of course, would be a comparison with corresponding parts abroad; but this, Mr. Gladstone supposes, would be difficult of attainment.

It occurs to him that perhaps in the United States there might be a disposition to follow the example so well set here.

With Mr. Gladstone's compliments.

December 18th, 1886.

FROM THE BISHOP OF WAKEFIELD (THEN BISHOP OF BEDFORD).

STAINFORTH HOUSE, UPPER CLAPTON, LONDON, E.

December 17th, 1886.

SIR,—We all owe you a great debt of gratitude for the census of attendance at public worship, which you have made with so much pains, and with such an evident desire to be strictly accurate. Such a laborious work could not be carried out without some errors or omissions; but these seem to me comparatively few, and will, I have no doubt, be corrected when the result of your labour appears in a final form. I think the result is distinctly encouraging, and I heartily sympathise with your hopeful deduction from the statistics you have collected. I have never myself taken a desponding view, but have believed what you press upon us—namely, that the evangelisation of London is not an impossibility. Thank God, there are evident signs of a more friendly attitude towards religion. But the achievement we hope and pray and labour for is only to be attained by the most earnest and zealous and self-denying exertions of Christian people. If there is much to make us sad and anxious, you have, at least, shown us much to stimulate and encourage.

WM. WALSHAM BEDFORD.

(Bishop Suffragan for East London.)

FROM THE VEN. ARCHDEACON FARRAR, D.D., F.R.S.

December 20th, 1886.

Dr. Farrar has read with great interest the results of the religious census, and the candid and valuable comments made upon them. He is much obliged to the Editor for the copy of last week's issue, and congratulates him on having been able to carry out so arduous an inquiry. The Editor has rendered a valuable service to the whole religious community.

FROM THE REV. DR. THAIN DAVIDSON.

11, ST. MARY'S ROAD, CANONBURY, N.

December 20th, 1886.

DEAR SIR,—In reply to your note, permit me to express my belief that while these statistics are not so satisfactory as one might have hoped for, their publication will do good by drawing more earnest attention to the practical irreligiousness (I would not use the word heathenism) existing in the Metropolis—an irreligiousness due, I am persuaded, to indifference, and consisting only in very small degree of avowed infidelity.

There are two remarks I feel inclined to make upon the religious census just taken. In the first place, these figures must not be held to represent the total influence of Christianity in the midst of us.

As one who for twenty-five years has been labouring in London, I am bound to say that I perceive a very great difference in the attitude of the humbler classes towards religion, even amongst those who rarely or never enter our churches.

The cynical contempt or malevolent hate which a minister of the Gospel would meet with in certain districts some years ago, is now exchanged for a respectful bearing; and working men are beginning to see that they have no better friends than those who are endeavouring to disseminate the principles of our holy faith.

In the second place, may I venture the opinion in regard to the aggregate numbers, as shown by your returns, to be found on a given Sunday within the various places of worship, that they represent nearly all the moral, and to a large extent also the intellectual, force of the Metropolis.

If we put these two considerations together, on each of which a great deal might be said, we shall have little difficulty in coming to the conclusion that, for all that pessimists allege, London is a city dominated by Christianity.

Yours faithfully,

J. THAIN DAVIDSON.

FROM MR. G. HOWELL, M.P.

HAMPDEN HOUSE, ELLINGHAM ROAD,

SHEPHERD'S BUSH, LONDON, W.

December 18th, 1886.

DEAR SIR,—I thank you for the copy of THE BRITISH WEEKLY, with condensed census of the attendances at churches and chapels in the Metropolis. Taking it as a whole, the figures are not discouraging, but I fear that the absentees are more numerous than you assume.

But even were not this the case, there is another aspect of the question which deserves a thought—namely, that the absentees are men in a larger proportion than women. Men will and do attend and in some congregations they form a fair proportion to the whole but not usually. They are not attracted by mere scholarship, but by healthy, manly teaching. Men could be named who will draw large assemblies of men, and hold them to their duties; but they are the exception rather than the rule.

In my opinion, the thing wanted in our ministers of all denominations is intense human sympathy; the more intense, if real, the better. This phase of Christian worship and preaching has developed immensely of late years, and hence there is a growth of religious communities throughout London. There are signs that it is further developing—broadly and healthfully. The more closely Christian ministers follow in the footsteps of Christ, and His followers during His stay, the more surely will Christianity spread.

The social fabric of society has broken down. Political economy has not yet shown how the masses of the people are to be improved, their condition ameliorated, and their health and happiness secured. What is true in economical science can be hallowed by the application to it of the precepts of Christianity, as a living force and vital principle. The very failure of political and social expediencies throws the people back upon Christian doctrines and religious truth. Wisely enforced, these cannot fail them, and they will appeal to their consciences with all the greater force because of the failures alluded to.

The facts you have elicited and published are of great value, and I thank you for them.

Yours faithfully,

GEORGE HOWELL.

The enormous extent of the work prevented a census being taken of the mission halls on the same day. That census was taken on the last Sunday of November, 1887. In this case the returns were furnished by the parties in charge of the halls. The result was a very keen discussion on how far mission halls were successful. I think it advisable in this case also to leave out all controversial matters, and to confine this publication simply to a record of facts, procured at great labour and expense, and as accurate as they can be made.

They will, no doubt, long be the basis of all discussion on the religious condition of London, and will afford a valuable test of the progress made by Christian churches.

I have to acknowledge the very valuable assistance of the late Mr. George J. Stevenson, M.A., in preparing this volume for the press. Mr. Stevenson's acquaintance with the religious condition of London was perhaps unrivalled, and his accuracy is universally known.

THE EDITOR OF "THE BRITISH WEEKLY."

27, PATERNOSTER Row,
LONDON, E.C., 1888.

The Census includes morning and evening attendance in what is known as "Smaller London." The population of "Smaller London" in 1881 amounted to 3,816,483. It is estimated at the present at about 4,100,000. It includes 29 Registration Districts: Kensington, Fulham, Chelsea, St. George Hanover Square, Westminster, Marylebone, Hampstead, St. Pancras, Islington, Hackney, St. Giles, Strand, Holborn, London City, Shoreditch, Bethnal Green, Whitechapel, St. George-in-the-East, Stepney, Mile-end, and Poplar in Middlesex; St. Saviour Southwark, St. Olave Southwark, Lambeth, Wandsworth, and Camberwell in Surrey; and Greenwich, Lewisham, and Woolwich in Kent.

The fact that in many churches and chapels services of a special character were held on the day when our census was taken has to some extent affected the attendance at those places, as well as at others in the locality; and it may be well to state that an asterisk (*) affixed to figures indicates that on Census Sunday Anniversary Services or a Harvest Festival were held; and in a few cases services were held in schoolrooms. It should also be stated, that in many places, both churches and chapels, considerable numbers of school-children formed part of the counted congregation, whilst in many other places a separate service was held in schoolrooms for the children, who did not come under the notice of the enumerators. In many Roman Catholic churches services were held at the hours of seven, eight, nine, and ten o'clock, attended by persons who could not attend services at later hours. These persons would treble the number of those present at High Mass, and evening service; only those two services were counted.

RECENT NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

“By far the ablest and most readable of all the religious weeklies.”—Methodist Recorder.

“The ablest of all the religious weeklies, and in many ways a pattern for the rest.”—Newcastle Leader.

“A stream of the best religious literature of every land flows into our editorial sanctum, and thence, after being duly filtered, fills the columns of the Southern Cross. Religious papers everywhere, with scarcely an exception, grow brighter and wider, more tolerant and more vigorous; but the brightest and widest, the most tolerant and most vigorous, of all our exchanges is, perhaps, THE BRITISH WEEKLY. THE BRITISH WEEKLY is far and away the most scholarly of popular religious papers, and it is also the most resolutely evangelical.”—Melbourne Southern Cross.

EXTRACT FROM THE AUTHOR'S DEDICATORY PREFACE :

"A story that takes its hero into the perils of certain unrecorded countries within easy range of the great island of Borneo, founded upon a careful study of true histories, upon private letters and despatches, and upon the experience of travellers whom I had personally known ; and so real was the result, that I had a long letter from Mr. Pryer voluntarily informing me that my descriptions of the scenery of the islands of the Eastern seas, and my accounts of the native inhabitants of such as had been visited by modern explorers, were so truthful, that it was hard to believe I had not spent much of my life on the Equator. Last year I had long talks with Mr. Pryer, during his brief trip to Europe, when he confirmed by sundry illustrations the truth of his letter, adding that there is not a single incident of 'Captured by Cannibals' which might not have happened."

HARRY MILVAINE ; or, the Wanderings of a Wayward Boy. By Dr. GORDON STABLES, R.N., Author of "The Cruise of the Snowbird," etc. With Full-page Illustrations. 6s.

DR. GORDON STABLES' NEW STORY.

WILD LIFE IN THE LAND OF THE GIANTS. A Tale of Two Brothers. By GORDON STABLES, M.D., C.M., Author of "Wild Adventures Round the Pole," "Harry Milvaine," "The Cruise of the Snowbird," etc. With Cover Designed by W. H. MARGETSON, and Eight Illustrations. 8vo, gilt edges, 6s.

THE AUTHOR SAYS :

"The story is intended to describe, in a racy and readable form, the wild sports and adventures one meets with in the Patagonian Pampas and the Straits of Magellan, betwixt Patagonia and Tierra del Fuego—the land of fire

"The adventures at home are nearly all painted from the life. For instance, the story of the thunderbolt and poor Tom Morley's sad death is true.

"The great love the twin brothers had for each other is carried through the story, and rests on a strange psychological fact, that twins sometimes seem animated by the same thoughts and feelings precisely as if their very souls were one.

"The adventures are all exciting without being horrible. The tale is healthy and manly without being goody-goody."

Five Shilling Stories.

VERMONT HALL; or, Light through the Darkness. By M. A. PAULL (Mrs. John Ripley), Author of "The Flower of the Grassmarket," etc. With Eight Illustrations. Crown 8vo, cloth, 5s.

Mr. W. M. Thayer's "Log Cabin" Series.

I.

Now Ready. 30th Edition, completing 171st Thousand.

FROM LOG CABIN TO WHITE HOUSE ; The Story of President Garfield's Life. In paper boards, illustrated cover, with fine steel portrait, 1s. ; in cloth, 1s. 6d. ; gilt edges, 2s. : cloth gilt, 2s. 6d. and 3s 6d. ; illustrated edition, gilt edges, 5s.

"One of the most romantic stories of our time."—British Quarterly Review.

II.

THE PIONEER BOY, and HOW HE BECAME PRESIDENT ; The Story of the Life of Abraham Lincoln. Many of the details of this work were furnished by PRESIDENT LINCOLN himself, and by his early associates and friends. Cheap Edition. Sixteenth Thousand, 3s. 6d., with Portrait.

"Mr. Thayer is not merely a biographer, a compiler of dry details, but he invests his subject with a halo of delightful romance, and the result is as pleasing as the most imaginative book of fiction. So cleverly has the author done his work, that the result is a combination of pictures from the life of this great man, with humorous anecdote and stirring narrative."—Society.

III.

GEORGE WASHINGTON : His Boyhood and Manhood. Cheap Edition. Tenth Thousand, 3s. 6d., with Steel Portrait.

"The character of Washington was a very noble one, and his life may well be taken as an example by boys. The biography is written in a lively and pleasant tone, and without any of the dryness which is too often the accompaniment of this form of literature. While the details are all strictly historical, the characters are made to live and breathe."—Standard.

IV.

FROM THE TANYARD TO WHITE HOUSE ; The Story of President Grant's Life. With portrait and illustrations. Nineteenth Thousand. Crown Svo, cloth, 3s. 6d. and 2s. 6d.

"General Grant's romantic and noble story is here popularly told with great effectiveness. Mr. Thayer seems destined to be the popular historian of American presidents—Washington, Lincoln, and Garfield have already been portrayed by his pen, and now in General Grant he has found a hero second to none of them. He has many high qualifications for his task. The book is one of romantic and entralling interest."—British Quarterly Review.

BY THE SAME AUTHOR.

TACT, PUSH, AND PRINCIPLE ; A Book for those who wish to Succeed in Life. Fourteenth Thousand. Crown Svo, cloth, 3s. 6d.

"A very interesting book, which may stimulate many a young nature of the ardently practical kind to steady and determined exertion."—Daily Telegraph.

CAPITAL FOR WORKING BOYS. Chapters on Character Building. By J. E. MCNAUGHEY. Crown Svo, cloth, 3s. 6d.

Stories at 3s. 6d.

FIVE LITTLE PEPPERS, AND HOW THEY GREW.

By MARGARET SIDNEY. With humorous Illustrations. Crown 8vo, cloth, 3s. 6d.

“One of the brightest and most cheerful books we have ever read. Full of fun and life.”—Christian World.

COST WHAT IT MAY.

By Mrs. E. E. HORNIBROOK. With Illustrations. Crown 8vo, cloth, 3s. 6d.

“Among the cartloads of boneless, nerveless fiction that are tumbled out of our modern presses, it is truly refreshing to meet with such a charming book as this. It is really a gem of literature worthy to be possessed both by young men and maidens.”—Christian.

CANDALARIA. A Heroine of the Wild West.

By Mrs. J. A. OWEN, Author of “Our Honolulu Boys,” etc. With Eight Full-page Illustrations. Crown 8vo, cloth, 3s. 6d.

“A pleasantly-written story of love and adventure, with a charming heroine.”—Bradford Observer.

A SON OF THE MORNING.

By SARAH DOUDNEY. With Frontispiece. 3s. 6d.

“It is a work of high art, of high literary quality, full of high feeling, knowledge of human nature, keen insight into human character. It is quite a gem of a novelette, and will be a favourite, not with young readers alone and not with one set alone.”—School Board Chronicle.

WHEN WE WERE GIRLS TOGETHER.

By the same Author. With Four Full-page Illustrations. Crown 8vo, cloth, 3s. 6d.

“A clever story. From first to last the interest is well sustained.”—City Press.

EUNICE.

By the Author of “Christie Redfern’s Troubles,” etc. With Eight Illustrations. Crown 8vo, cloth, 3s. 6d.

“A very bright and pretty story. The characters are well individualised, and Mrs. Stone is really good.”—Academy.

FREDERICA AND HER GUARDIANS; or, The Perils of Orphanhood.

By the same Author. Cheaper Edition. Crown 8vo, cloth, 3s. 6d.

“A sweet, pure, and beautiful story.”—Sheffield Independent.

Stories at 3s. 6d.

A LITTLE SILVER TRUMPET. By L. T. MEADE. With Twelve Illustrations by T. Pym. Crown 8vo, 3s. 6d.
“A delightful book, delightfully illustrated.”—Scotsman.

NOBLE, BUT NOT THE NOBLEST. By MARIE HALL. Crown 8vo, 3s. 6d.

“The picture is skilfully drawn, with tender touches and with artistic lights. We heartily commend it. To those who have read the author's previous stories of 'The Dying Saviour and the Gipsy Girl,' 'Andrew Marvel,' etc., this is scarcely necessary.”—British Quarterly Review.

“A more elegantly written, graceful, and powerful story the present season has not yielded us.”—Freeman.

THE DYING SAVIOUR AND THE GIPSY GIRL, and other Tales. By the same Author. Sixteenth Thousand. Crown 8vo, cloth, 3s. 6d.

“The stories are gracefully written: they are marked by good feeling and refined taste, and the moral conveyed by them is unexceptionable.”—Spectator.

OLIVER WYNDHAM. A Tale of the Great Plague. By the Author of “Naomi; or, The Last Days of Jerusalem,” etc. Fifteenth Thousand. Crown 8vo, cloth, 3s. 6d.

THE BOY IN THE BUSH A Tale of Australian Life. By RICHARD ROWE. With Illustrations. Crown 8vo, 3s. 6d.

“Young lads will feel the narrative of the dash and courage of colonial boys of from ten to fourteen to be exhilarating reading.”—School Board Chronicle.

DAVID LIVINGSTONE: The Story of his Life and Labours; or, The Weaver Boy who became a Missionary. By H. G. ADAMS. With Steel Portrait and Thirty Illustrations. Sixty-first Thousand. Crown 8vo, cloth, 3s. 6d.

“An admirable condensation of 'The Story of the Life and Labours of Dr. Livingstone.' Comprehensive in range, abounding in detail, and vividly presenting the graphic description of the great explorer himself.”—Record.
